COMPLAINT FOR BREACH OF CONTRACT; AND DIRECT, CONTRIBUTORY AND
VICARIOUS COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENT

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

1 Plaintiff Sony Music Entertainment (“Sony Music”) alleges:

2 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

3 1. The Court has jurisdiction of this action pursuant to:

4 (a) 28 U.S.C. § 1332, insofar as the amount in controversy 5 exceeds the sum of $75,000, exclusive of interest and costs, and there is 6 complete diversity between plaintiff, on the one hand, and the named 7 defendant, on the other hand; and, alternatively,

8 (b) 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338(a), insofar as it arises under 9 the Copyright Act of 1976, 17 U.S.C. §§ 101 et seq., 28 U.S.C. § 1367, 10 and the non-copyright claims are so related to the copyright claim that 11 they form part of the same case or controversy.

12 2. Venue is proper in this District under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b), insofar as at 13 least one defendant resides in this District or, alternatively, under 28 U.S.C. § 14 1391(b), insofar as a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the 15 claims occurred in this District, or, alternatively, under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b) or 16 1400, insofar as at least one defendant may be found here.

17 THE PARTIES

18 3. Sony Music is a Delaware general partnership with its principal place of 19 business in the State of New York, and whose two partners are:

20 (a) Sony Music Holdings Inc., which is a Delaware 21 corporation with its principal place of business in the State of New 22 York; and

23 (b) USCO Sub LLC, which is a Delaware limited liability 24 company with its principal place of business in the State of New York, 25 and whose sole member is Sony Music Holdings Inc., a Delaware 26 corporation with its principal place of business in the State of New 27 York.

28 ///

1 4. Sony Music is informed and believes, and upon that basis alleges, that 2 defendant Applebee's Services, Inc. ("Applebee's Services") is a Kansas corporation 3 with its principal place of business in Glendale, California.

4 5. Sony Music is presently unaware of the true names and/or the 5 involvement of the defendants sued herein by the fictitious designations does 1-10, 6 and for that reason sues them by those designations. Sony Music will seek leave of 7 Court to amend this pleading to identify those defendants when their true names and 8 involvement in the infringements hereinafter described are known.

9 FACTS COMMON TO ALL CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

10 6. Sony Music is a record company and is the owner or exclusive United 11 States licensee of sound recordings containing the performances of some of the most 12 popular and successful recording artists of all time. Sony Music has invested and 13 continues to invest significant money, time, effort and creative talent to create, 14 promote, sell and license its sound recordings.

15 7. Sony Music is, and has been at all relevant times, the exclusive licensee 16 of the rights, including copyright rights, in the United States and elsewhere, to the 17 sound recording titled Rock and Roll Ain't Noise Pollution ("Rock and Roll") by the 18 musical group AC/DC. The United States Register of Copyrights has issued to Sony 19 Music's licensor, Leidseplein Presse, B.V., Registration Certificate SR 019-392, 20 dated August 4, 1980, for the sound recording copyright in, inter alia, the sound 21 recording Rock and Roll.

22 8. Sony Music owns, and has owned at all relevant times, the copyright in 23 the recording titled Gonna Make You Sweat (Everybody Dance Now) ("Everybody 24 Dance Now") by the musical group C+C Music Factory. The United States Register 25 of Copyright has issued to Sony Music Registration Certificate SR 782-730, dated 26 March 3, 2017, for the sound recording copyright in Everybody Dance Now.

27 9. Due to their bulk, copies of the sound recordings Rock and Roll and 28 Everybody Dance Now (the "Recordings") are not attached to this Complaint.

1 10. The exploitation of sound recordings of musical performances can 2 include issuing non-exclusive licenses for the use of sound recordings, or portions of 3 them, in motion pictures, television shows, commercials and other audiovisual 4 productions. Obtaining the rights to use a sound recording of a musical performance 5 generally requires obtaining a license from the owner of the sound recording and 6 obtaining a license from the owner or owners of the musical composition embodied 7 in the sound recording. Those seeking licenses often engage music clearance 8 companies who, on their behalf, identify the companies that own or control the 9 sound recordings and musical compositions and then contact those companies to 10 solicit quotes of license terms for the desired uses.

11 11. Generally, the license fee paid for the use of a sound recording is the 12 same amount as the license fee paid for the use of the musical composition 13 embodied in the sound recording. Accordingly, licenses for the use of a sound 14 recording typically provide that the license fee is “MFN” or “most-favored nations,” 15 in that the license fee is the greater of (1) the license fee specified for the use of the 16 sound recording and (2) the license fee paid for the use of the musical composition.

17 12. In or about February 2016, Sony Music was contacted by a music 18 clearance company, Music Dealers LLC (“Music Dealers”), which sought from 19 Sony Music non-exclusive licenses to use portions of the Recordings in commercials 20 advertising Applebee’s Restaurants. In the course of those discussions, Music 21 Dealers represented to Sony Music that an advertising agency, Barkley Inc.
22 (“Barkley”), was working with Music Dealers in obtaining licenses to use sound 23 recordings in commercials advertising Applebee’s Restaurants, and that both Music 24 Dealers and Barkley were acting as agents of defendant Applebee’s Services in 25 seeking from Sony Music licenses to use the Recordings in those commercials.

26 13. In response to Music Dealers’ inquiries, Sony Music provided to Music 27 Dealers quotes proposing the terms that Sony Music would accept for the non-28 exclusive licenses that Music Dealers sought for the use of the Recordings in

1 commercials advertising Applebee's Restaurants. The terms that Sony Music 2 proposed and which Music Dealers advised were acceptable for Sony Music's non-3 exclusive license of the requested rights to use the Recordings in commercials for 4 Applebee's Restaurants, include:

5 (a) the payment to Sony Music of the greater of (i) $250,000 6 and (ii) the amount paid to music publishers for the right to use the 7 musical composition Rock and Roll, with Applebee's Services obligated 8 to promptly notify Sony Music if an amount greater than $250,000 was 9 paid for the use of the musical composition Rock and Roll; and 10 (b) the payment to Sony Music of the greater of (i) $50,000 11 and (ii) the amount paid to music publishers for the right to use the 12 musical composition Everybody Dance Now, with Applebee's Services 13 obligated to promptly notify Sony Music if an amount greater than 14 $50,000 was paid for the use of the musical composition Everybody 15 Dance Now.

16 14. In or about February 2016, Music Dealers informed Sony Music that 17 the terms were acceptable, including the foregoing payments to Sony Music, and 18 requested that Sony Music provide written licenses for review and comment.

19 15. Pursuant to Music Dealers' requests, Sony Music provided for review 20 and comment written licenses of the requested rights for Applebee's Services to use 21 the Recordings, and Music Dealers provided comments, including comments that 22 Music Dealers advised Sony Music had been provided by Barkley. Ultimately, the 23 written license prepared for the use of the sound recording Rock and Roll (the "Rock 24 and Roll License") and the written license prepared for the use of the sound 25 recording Everybody Dance Now (the "Everybody Dance Now License"), both of 26 which were approved by Music Dealers and, Music Dealers advised, by Barkley, 27 were directed to Barkley "on behalf of Applebee's Services, Inc.," and included a 28 place for Barkley to sign "as agent for APPLEBEE'S SERVICES, INC."

1 16. Commercials advertising Applebee's Restaurants and incorporating 2 substantial portions of the Recordings were produced and released to the public.

3 17. The commercials' use of the Recordings garnered a great deal of 4 attention. By way of example, only, the Applebee's Restaurant commercials using 5 Rock and Roll promoted what Applebee's Services – quoting its Chief Executive 6 Officer, Julia A. Stewart, on Applebee's Services' website and in Applebee's 7 Services' official press release – described as “a transformation of Applebee's” by 8 the addition of new menu items for sale to the public at “nearly 2,000 of its U.S.
9 restaurants.” The use of the Recordings in the commercials bears a causal 10 relationship with the revenues of the Applebee's Restaurants and, for example, 11 Applebee's Service's website and official press release also state that “[t]he appeal 12 of the spots is further fueled by iconic rock music, including AC/DC's signature 13 ‘Rock ‘n’ Roll Ain’t Noise Pollution.’”

14 18. Despite defendants' use of the Recordings to defendants' great profit, 15 and despite Sony Music's repeated oral and written requests, the written licenses 16 provided by Sony Music have never been signed and returned to Sony Music and 17 neither the agreed payments nor any portion thereof have ever been paid to Sony 18 Music.

19 19. Instead, Applebee's Services and Barkley have refused to pay the 20 license fees to Sony Music, claiming that they paid them to Music Dealers, that 21 Music Dealers was acting as Sony Music's agent and that Music Dealers has gone 22 out of business.

23 20. Applebee's Services' claim that Music Dealers was acting as Sony 24 Music's agent is pure fiction: among other things, Music Dealers was a music 25 clearance company and was engaged by Applebee's Services, directly or through 26 Barkley, to obtain licenses on Applebee's Services' behalf; the two licenses that 27 Music Dealers sought from Sony Music were only some of the licenses that Music 28 Dealers sought from other record and music publishing companies on Applebee's

1 Services' behalf; Music Dealers and Barkley represented that they were acting on 2 behalf of Applebee's Services; and Music Dealers' fees for its services were paid by 3 Applebee's Services, directly or through Barkley, not by Sony Music.

4 21. In short, Applebee's Services' excuse for not paying Sony Music for 5 the Recordings used in the commercials for Applebee's Restaurants is baseless, 6 contrived and in bad faith.

7 FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

8 (For Breach of Contract – The Rock and Roll License)

9 (Against Defendant Applebee's Services)

10 22. Sony Music refers to and re-alleges each and every allegation contained 11 in paragraphs 1 through 21, both inclusive, above, as if set forth herein.

12 23. Sony Music has performed any and all obligations to be performed by 13 Sony Music, and satisfied any and all conditions to be satisfied by Sony Music, 14 under the Rock and Roll License, or such performance and satisfaction have been 15 excused by reason of Applebee's Services' breaches and repudiation.

16 24. Applebee's Services materially breached and repudiated the Rock and 17 Roll License as alleged above, including by failing to pay Sony Music the license fee 18 of the greater of $250,000 and the amount paid to music publishers for the right to 19 use the musical composition Rock and Roll.

20 25. As a direct and proximate result of the foregoing breaches of contract, 21 Sony Music has been damaged in the amount of at least $250,000, according to 22 proof.

23 SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

24 (For Breach of Contract – Everybody Dance Now License)

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(For Direct, Contributory and Vicarious

Copyright Infringement – Rock and Roll)

(Against All Defendants)

30. Sony Music refers to and re-alleges each and every allegation contained in paragraphs 1 through 21, both inclusive, above, as if set forth herein.

If there is a determination that a non-exclusive license was not granted for the use of the sound recording Rock and Roll, or if there was a non-exclusive license but defendants exploited Rock and Roll after Sony Music terminated the license or exploited Rock and Roll beyond the rights licensed, or all of the foregoing, then defendants have infringed Sony Music's copyright in the sound recording Rock and Roll:

(a) by, inter alia reproducing Rock and Roll in copies, by preparing derivative works based upon or incorporating Rock and Roll, by distributing copies of Rock and Roll to the public and/or by publicly performing Rock and Roll;

(b) by causing, inducing or purporting to authorize all or some of the foregoing infringements; and/or

1 (c) by failing to exercise defendants' control, authority or 2 ability to avoid or cease the foregoing infringements and profiting
3 therefrom.

4 31. Sony Music is entitled to and requests injunctive relief restraining 5 defendants, and their respective officers, agents and employees, and all persons 6 acting in concert with them, from engaging in any further acts in violation of the 7 copyright laws.

8 32. Sony Music is further entitled to recover from defendants the damages
9 Sony Music has sustained and will sustain, and all gains, direct and indirect profits 10 and advantages obtained by defendants as a result of defendants' acts of 11 infringement, or, at Sony Music's election, statutory damages of at least $150,000 12 against each defendant that is individually liable and statutory damages of at least 13 $150,000 against each group of defendants that are jointly and severally liable, for 14 their willful infringements, all according to proof.

15 FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

16 (For Direct, Contributory and Vicarious 17 Copyright Infringement – Everybody Dance Now)
18 (Against All Defendants)

19 33. Sony Music refers to and re-alleges each and every allegation contained 20 in paragraphs 1 through 21, both inclusive, above, as if set forth herein.

21 34. If there is a determination that a non-exclusive license was not granted 22 for the use of the sound recording Everybody Dance Now, or if there was a non-23 exclusive license but defendants exploited Everybody Dance Now after Sony Music 24 terminated the license or exploited Everybody Dance Now beyond the rights 25 licensed, or all of the foregoing, then defendants have infringed Sony Music's 26 copyright in the sound recording Everybody Dance Now:

27 (a) by, inter alia reproducing Everybody Dance Now in 28 copies, by preparing derivative works based upon or incorporating

1 Everybody Dance Now, by distributing copies of Everybody Dance
2 Now to the public and/or by publicly performing Everybody Dance
3 Now;

4 (b) by causing, inducing or purporting to authorize all or some 5 of the foregoing infringements; and/or

6 (c) by failing to exercise defendants' control, authority or 7 ability to avoid or cease the foregoing infringements and profiting
8 therefrom.

9 35. Sony Music is entitled to and requests injunctive relief restraining 10 defendants, and their respective officers, agents and employees, and all persons 11 acting in concert with them, from engaging in any further acts in violation of the 12 copyright laws.

13 36. Sony Music is further entitled to recover from defendants the damages
14 Sony Music has sustained and will sustain, and all gains, direct and indirect profits 15 and advantages obtained by defendants as a result of defendants' acts of 16 infringement, all according to proof.
