PROCEEDINGS

Motion for TRO - held

NOTES AND ORDERS

With the parties' agreement, the TRO application (Dkt. No. 3) is denied without prejudice. Plaintiffs will file an amended complaint and a preliminary injunction motion by February 22, 2018. Defendants will have three weeks to oppose and plaintiffs will then have two weeks to reply. The Court will set a hearing date once briefing is complete.

In the meantime, defendants represent that pregnant women will receive appropriate medical care and overall treatment. Defendants also represent that women prisoners will receive sufficient nutrition (taking pregnancy into account), warm clothing, and hygiene products.

The parties should confer on a policy that will give the plaintiffs' attorneys reasonable access to similarly situated prisoners at the Santa Rita jail. If a discovery dispute arises, the parties should review the Court's standing order on civil discovery.
