MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiffs request final approval of a settlement that will provide critical injunctive relief to veterans discharged under Don't Ask, Don't Tell ("DADT"), 10 U.S.C. § 654 (2006) (repealed 2010), and predecessor policies, whose discharge paperwork (Form "DD-214") contains indicators of sexual orientation. The terms of the settlement are fully set forth in the settlement agreement, attached as Exhibit 1 to the Declaration of Lori Rifkin in Support of Plaintiffs' Motion for Final Approval of Class Action Settlement ("Rifkin Decl."), filed herewith ("SA").<sup>1</sup>

The settlement will provide veterans discharged under DADT and similar prior policies with access to streamlined review procedures for requesting changes to their DD-214s. These procedures will provide a faster, easier, and more effective avenue for veterans to request removal of all indicators of sexual orientation from their DD-214s than those currently in place. For most veterans given discharge characterizations below Honorable, the settlement will also provide an expedited discharge upgrade review. Participating veterans will not have to individually obtain their military records, gather evidence, or submit individual petitions to the Board. The streamlined review procedures will be available to class members for at least three years.

On January 8, 2025, the Court conditionally certified the settlement class and granted preliminary approval of the settlement. ECF No. 85. The Court found that it will likely be able to approve the proposed settlement as fair, reasonable, and adequate under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(e)(2). Id. There have been no changes since preliminary approval that would undercut certification of the class and final approval of the settlement, including the requested attorneys' fees and costs, as fair, reasonable, and adequate. The parties have implemented the class notice plan approved by the Court. Rifkin Decl. ¶¶ 13-15. Class counsel have received substantial positive feedback about the settlement, and, to date, no class members have submitted objections.<sup>2</sup> Id. ¶ 16. Accordingly, Plaintiffs now move for certification of the settlement class and final approval of the

1 settlement, including an award of $350,000 in reasonable attorneys' fees and costs. This motion is 2 unopposed. Rifkin Decl. ¶ 5.

3 II. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

4 Plaintiffs included a detailed factual and procedural history of the litigation, summary of the 5 settlement negotiations, and a description of the settlement terms in the recently filed motion for 6 preliminary approval. ECF No. 82 at 10-12. In summary, Plaintiffs brought this class action on 7 behalf of themselves and tens of thousands of veterans discharged under DADT and similar prior 8 policies that prohibited individuals from serving in the U.S. armed forces based on actual or 9 perceived sexual orientation. ECF No. 43 ¶¶ 6, 34. Plaintiffs sought declaratory and injunctive 10 relief to remedy ongoing constitutional violations caused by these discriminatory discharges, namely 11 the continuing identification of sexual orientation on affected veterans' discharge papers. Id. ¶¶ 122-12 23.

13 Defendants moved to dismiss the entirety of Plaintiffs' case, challenging timeliness, standing 14 and exhaustion of remedies, and the sufficiency of Plaintiffs' allegations. ECF No. 50. After the 15 Court denied Defendants' motion to dismiss, the parties engaged in six months of contentious arm's 16 length settlement negotiations, including bi-weekly meet and confer calls via videoconference and 17 an in-person settlement meeting in Washington D.C. ECF No. 82-1 ¶¶ 16-22.

18 Plaintiffs' counsel—who have decades of experience litigating civil rights actions and class 19 actions—assessed the settlement based on their thorough investigation of this case, consultations 20 with the named Plaintiffs, information gathered from other advocates for LGBTQ+ veterans, their 21 own prior litigation experience, and additional information obtained through the course of settlement 22 discussions. ECF No. 82-1 ¶ 32; ECF No. 82-2 ¶ 15; ECF No. 82-3 ¶ 17; ECF No. 82-4 ¶ 14.
23 Plaintiffs' counsel weighed the strengths and weaknesses of the legal issues, the relief they were able 24 to obtain through settlement versus the relief possible through litigation, and the benefits and risks of 25 proceeding with further litigation. ECF No. 82-1 ¶ 33; ECF No. 82-2 ¶ 15; ECF No. 82-3 ¶ 17; ECF 26 No. 82-4 ¶ 14. If approved, the settlement would provide meaningful and timely relief to tens of 27 thousands of veterans experiencing ongoing harm related to their discharge paperwork and status.
28 Named Plaintiffs and their counsel concluded that the substantial relief obtained for the putative

1 class through this settlement as compared to the potential delay and substantial risks of ongoing 2 litigation make this settlement an excellent outcome. ECF No. 82-8 ¶ 31; ECF No. 82-6 ¶¶ 45-47; 3 ECF No. 82-7 ¶ 35; ECF No. 82-5 ¶¶ 45-47.

4 Plaintiffs moved for preliminary approval of the settlement on January 6, 2025. ECF No. 82.
 5 The same day, Defendants filed a Statement of Nonopposition and requested the Court consider the 6 matter submitted on the papers for immediate determination. ECF No. 84. On January 8, 2025, the 7 Court conditionally certified the settlement class and granted preliminary approval of the settlement.
 8 ECF No. 85.

9 Pursuant to the Court's order, the parties implemented the notice plan to advise class 10 members of the proposed settlement and its terms, and how to exercise their rights to object and/or 11 participate. See id. at 2-3; Rifkin Decl. ¶¶ 13-14. The final class notice, updated per the Court's 12 Order ("Notice"), is attached as Exhibit 2 to the Rifkin Declaration. The Notice was posted on 13 public-facing Department of Defense websites and class counsel's case website.<sup>3</sup> Rifkin Decl. ¶ 14.
 14 Class counsel also distributed the Notice and a summary of the settlement to LGBTQ+ 15 organizations, veterans' organizations, veterans' legal clinics, and related listservs across the 16 country. See id. ¶ 4; SA ¶ 24. The parties issued press releases with information about the 17 settlement, and class counsel posted a summary of information contained in the Class Notice to 18 social media channels. See Rifkin Decl. ¶¶ 14-15; SA ¶ 24.

19 Class counsel have received substantial positive feedback from class members, and no class 20 members have submitted objections. Rifkin Decl. ¶ 16.

21 III. SUMMARY OF PROPOSED CLASS SETTLEMENT

22 A. The Settlement Class

23 The proposed settlement class is the same as the class conditionally certified by the Court in 24 its January 8, 2025 Order:

25 [V]eterans of the U.S. Army, U.S. Navy, U.S. Air Force, and U.S. Marine Corps who 26 were administratively separated prior to September 20, 2011, and whose most recent Service separation document shows their basis for discharge was sexual orientation,

27
 28 <sup>3</sup> See <https://www.defense.gov/Spotlights/Dont-Ask-Dont-Tell-Resources/>; <https://www.milreviewbds.mil/>; <https://www.justiceforlgbtqveterans.com/>

1 homosexual conduct, homosexual admission, homosexual marriage, similar language, 2 or a policy title or number signifying separation for sexual orientation.

3 SA ¶ 4(d).

4 B. Relief Provided by the Settlement

5 The settlement establishes two corrections procedures for class members. The first is an 6 administrative change process to remove sexual orientation indicators from the DD-214s of class 7 members with Honorable and Uncharacterized/Entry Level discharges (“Administrative Change 8 Process”). The following changes to class members’ DD-214s may be obtained through the 9 Administrative Change Process: (1) the narrative basis (i.e., reason) for separation changed to 10 “Secretarial Authority,” (2) the Separation Program Designator Code<sup>4</sup> changed to correspond to the 11 new narrative basis, and (3) the Re-Entry code be upgraded to RE-1 if it was RE-2 or lower.<sup>5</sup> The 12 Administrative Change Process will not require Board review and will be available for at least three 13 years. SA ¶¶ 6-7.

14 The second streamlined corrections procedure is an expedited group discharge upgrade 15 review process for class members discharged with characterizations of General Under Honorable 16 Conditions or Under Other Than Honorable Conditions (“Discharge Upgrade Review Process”).
17 Defendants will submit group discharge upgrade requests for Board review on behalf of eligible class 18 members who opt into this process. The first series of group applications will be submitted within 19 nine months after the Final Approval order is entered. Defendants will continue to submit group 20 applications at approximately three-month intervals, and this process will remain available for at least 21 three years. SA ¶ 7.

22 C. Class Notice

23 The Court approved the notice plan set forth in the settlement, with the notice to be updated 24 to provide time and location details for the final approval hearing and class member objections, as 25

26 <sup>4</sup> Separation Program Designator Code is a three-character alphabetic combination identifying the reasons for and type of separation.

27 <sup>5</sup> RE-1 signifies that the veteran is eligible for reenlistment. See Office of the Naval Inspector 28 General, What is a Reenlistment Code?, SECRETARY OF THE NAVY, <https://www.secnav.navy.mil/ig/Lists/FAQs/DispForm.aspx?ID=641> (last visited January 3, 2025).

1 described in the Court’s Order. ECF No. 85 at 2-3. As described above, the parties have 2 implemented this notice plan. See supra, Section II.

3 The settlement also provides that, following final approval, Defendants will prepare a class 4 list utilizing their records database and send letters to certain class members describing how to 5 access the settlement’s expedited DD-214 corrections procedures. Information about how veterans 6 can request DD-214 corrections pursuant to the settlement will be posted on the Department of 7 Defense and each military department’s websites, as well as class counsel’s case website. SA ¶¶ 10-8 12.

9 D. Attorneys’ Fees and Costs

10 The settlement permits Plaintiffs to move for an award of reasonable attorneys’ fees and 11 costs in the amount of $350,000, but is not conditioned upon the Court’s approval of any attorneys’ 12 fees or costs. SA ¶ 34; Rifkin Decl. ¶ 20. As detailed further below, this amount is reasonable and 13 justified under the Equal Access to Justice Act, 28 U.S.C. §§ 2412 (“EAJA”).

14 IV. ARGUMENT

15 A. The Court Should Certify the Settlement Class.

16 The proposed settlement class definition is coextensive with the class proposed in Plaintiffs’ 17 operative complaint. See United States District Court for the Northern District of California, 18 Procedural Guidance for Class Action Settlements ¶ 1(a) (2018) (“N.D. Cal. Class Settlement 19 Guidance”). The settlement class definition contains greater detail than the class definition in the 20 operative complaint to clarify the scope of the proposed class and facilitate Defendants’ provision of 21 relief. Compare SA ¶ 4(d) with ECF No. 43 ¶ 112. The parties jointly drafted this definition, which 22 incorporates information Plaintiffs did not have at the time they filed the operative complaint. ECF 23 No. 82-1 ¶ 23. The settlement does not propose a subclass because the injunctive relief negotiated 24 for the entire proposed settlement class addresses the discharge upgrade claims of the subclass 25 defined in Plaintiffs’ operative complaint. Id.

26 There is no substantive difference between the proposed settlement class definition and 27 Plaintiffs’ original proposed class definition that would impede certification for settlement purposes.
28 Indeed, courts routinely approve more extensive departures from proposed class definitions. See,

1 e.g., Carlotti v. ASUS Computer Int'l, No. 18-cv-03369-DMR, 2019 WL 6134910, at *14 (N.D. Cal.
 2 Nov. 19, 2019) (approving settlement class narrower than class in complaint); In re Chrysler-Dodge- 3 Jeep Ecodiesel Mktg., Sales Pracs., & Prods. Liab. Litig., No. 17-md-02777, 2019 WL 536661, at 4 **3-7 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 11, 2019) (approving settlement with “simpler” class definition).

5 1. Plaintiffs Satisfy the Requirements for Class Certification under Rule 23(a).

6 The proposed settlement class meets Rule 23 requirements for class certification. See 7 Amchem Prods., Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 620 (1997) (explaining that certification requires that 8 all four elements of Rule 23(a) and at least one prong under Rule 23(b) be satisfied). The Court 9 previously found that it “will likely be able to certify the proposed class for the purposes of 10 settlement.” ECF No. 85 ¶ 1. There have been no changes to the settlement class since the Court’s 11 conditional certification in January 2025. Applying the required rigorous analysis to confirm that 12 the requirements of Rule 23 are met, the Court may readily conclude that it can now finally certify 13 the settlement class. See In re Hyundai and Kia Fuel Economy Litig., 926 F.3d 539, 556 (9th Cir.
 14 2019).

15 a) The Settlement Class is Sufficiently Numerous.

16 The proposed settlement class meets the numerosity requirement of Rule 23(a) because 17 “joinder of all members is impracticable.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(1). The Department of Defense 18 website states that 32,837 veterans were discharged under DADT and predecessor policies,<sup>6</sup> and 19 Defendants’ response to Plaintiffs’ Freedom of Information Act request indicated there are at least 20 35,801 veterans who are in this group. ECF No. 43 ¶ 114. These tens of thousands of veterans are 21 presumptively members of the proposed Settlement Class because Defendants themselves have 22 characterized these veterans’ discharges as based on their sexual orientation.<sup>7</sup> While some of those 23 veterans may have received relief through the existing Board review process and a limited initiative 24 Defendants announced in September 2023,<sup>8</sup> it is undisputed that the majority have not. Therefore,

<sup>8</sup> After Plaintiffs filed this lawsuit, the Department of Defense announced that it would initiate a

1 the proposed settlement class is sufficiently numerous. See Wortman v. Air New Zealand, 326 2 F.R.D. 549, 556 (N.D. Cal. 2018) (holding that a class of at least forty-one class members will 3 presumptively meet the numerosity requirement, and plaintiffs may make a reasonable estimate as to 4 class numbers).

5 b) There are Common Questions of Law and Fact.

6 Rule 23(a)(2) requires that there be “questions of law or fact common to the class.” Fed. R.
 7 Civ. P. 23(a)(2). The commonality requirement looks to “shared legal issues or a common core of 8 facts.” Rodriguez v. Hayes, 591 F.3d 1105, 1122 (9th Cir. 2010) (abrogated on other grounds by 9 Rodriguez Diaz v. Garland, 53 F.4th 1189 (9th Cir. 2022)). In other words, class claims “must 10 depend upon a common contention,” which “must be of such nature that it is capable of classwide 11 resolution—which means that determination of its truth or falsity will resolve an issue that is central 12 to the validity of each one of the claims in one stroke.” Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. v. Dukes, 564 U.S.
 13 338, 350 (2011). This case poses numerous overarching questions that are common to the proposed 14 Settlement Class, including:

- 15 • Whether Defendants violated class members’ equal protection rights by (1) issuing DD-16 214s that identified class members’ actual or perceived sexual orientation, while not 17 identifying the actual or perceived sexual orientation of other veterans, and 18 (2) maintaining a policy expressly disclaiming an intention to systematically remove 19 indicators of sexual orientation on class members’ DD-214s following the repeal of 20 DADT;
- 21 • Whether Defendants’ maintenance of a policy that refuses to systematically remove 22 indicators of sexual orientation from DD-214s is a continuing violation of class members’ 23 constitutional right to privacy;
- 24 • Whether Defendants have violated due process by maintaining a policy that refuses to 25 systematically remove sexual orientation indicators from DD-214s; and
- 26 • Whether the discharge upgrade and record correction processes that Defendants have put 27 in place are constitutionally inadequate.

28 records review of veterans who may have been discharged under Don’t Ask Don’t Tell and consider processing upgrades to eligible veterans. See U.S. Department of Defense, Statement by the Secretary of Defense Lloyd J. Austin on the Twelfth Anniversary of the Repeal of ‘Don’t ask Don’t Tell’ (September 20, 2023), <https://www.defense.gov/News/Releases/Release/Article/3531561/> (last visited February 5, 2025). In October 2024, the Department of Defense announced it had granted relief to 824 veterans through that review. See Spotlight: Don’t Ask Don’t Tell Resources, U.S.
 DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE, <https://www.defense.gov/Spotlights/Dont-Ask-Dont-Tell-Resources/> (last visited February 5, 2025).

1 The central facts underlying the class claims are also common. For example, Defendants’ 2 inclusion of sexual orientation indicators on the DD-214s of Settlement Class members uniformly 3 resulted from discharges under DADT and predecessor policies. Likewise, federal regulations and 4 Department of Defense directives explicitly require “uniformity among the Military Departments in 5 the rights afforded applicants in discharge reviews.” 32 C.F.R. § 70.4(b)(2); Department of Defense 6 Directive 1332.41. As a result, the process for reviewing and correcting military records to remove 7 indicators of sexual orientation or obtain a discharge upgrade is the same or substantially similar for 8 all veterans in all branches of service. These common questions of law and fact meet the 9 requirements under Rule 23(a)(2).

10 c) Named Plaintiffs’ Claims are Typical of the Class.

11 Rule 23(a)(3) requires that “the claims or defenses of the representative parties are typical of 12 the claims or defenses of the class.” The purpose of the typicality requirement is to ensure that the 13 interests of the named Plaintiffs align with the interests of the class. Hanon v. Dataproducts Corp., 14 976 F.2d 497, 508 (9th Cir. 1992). “[R]epresentative claims are ‘typical’ if they are reasonably co-15 extensive with those of absent class members; they need not be substantially identical.” Hanlon v.
16 Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1020 (9th Cir. 2008), overruled on other grounds by Wal-Mart, 564
17 U.S. 338. The typicality requirement measures whether the named Plaintiffs’ legal claims all arise 18 from essentially the same conduct as their fellow class members’ claims, and whether the named 19 Plaintiffs and their fellow class members suffered the same legal injury. Hanon, 976 F.2d at 508.

20 Here, named Plaintiffs and the proposed settlement class all suffered the identical injury of a 21 military discharge based on actual or perceived sexual orientation and all have DD-214s that contain 22 indicators of sexual orientation. ECF No. 82-8 ¶ 4; ECF No. 82-6 ¶ 22; ECF No. 82-7 ¶ 4; ECF No.
23 82-5 ¶ 21. Named Plaintiffs and the proposed settlement class are all challenging the continued 24 inclusion of sexual orientation indicators on their DD-214s, Defendants’ refusal to systematically 25 correct DD-214s, and Defendants’ constitutionally infirm process that places the burden on affected 26 veterans to obtain corrections. See Armstrong v. Davis, 275 F.3d 849, 869 (9th Cir. 2001) (typicality 27 requirement met when “the cause of the injury is the same—here, the Board’s discriminatory policy 28 and practice”). Named Plaintiffs’ claims are therefore typical of the proposed settlement class.

1 d) Named Plaintiffs and Their Counsel Have, and Will Continue to,
2 Fairly and Adequately Protect the Interests of the Class.

3 The final Rule 23(a) requirement is that named Plaintiffs will “fairly and adequately protect 4 the interests of the class.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(4). This inquiry asks whether there are any conflicts
5 of interest between named Plaintiffs and the class they seek to represent, thereby guarding the right 6 of absent class members not to be bound to a judgment without adequate representation by the 7 parties participating in the litigation. In re Anthem, Inc. Data Breach Litig., 327 F.R.D. 299, 309 8 (N.D. Cal. 2018). The court must determine whether the class representatives “have any conflicts of 9 interest with other class members” and will “prosecute the action vigorously on behalf of the class” 10 through qualified counsel. Staton v. Boeing Corp., 327 F.3d 938, 957 (9th Cir. 2003). Named 11 Plaintiffs meet this requirement.

12 As this Court determined in its preliminary approval Order, named Plaintiffs satisfy the Rule 13 23 requirements for class representatives. ECF No. 85 ¶ 3. They have no interest antagonistic to, or 14 in conflict with, the interests of the class members they seek to represent. Instead, the proposed 15 settlement class members’ interests are aligned because they all share the common goal of removing 16 the discriminatory and harmful indicators of sexual orientation on their DD-214s and the resulting 17 harms. Each named Plaintiff has also devoted significant time to the investigation, prosecution, and 18 settlement of this case. ECF No. 82-8 ¶ 30; ECF No. 82-6 ¶ 44; ECF No. 82-7 ¶ 34; ECF No. 82-5 19 ¶¶ 36, 41. Named Plaintiffs have prioritized the primary goal to obtain relief on behalf of the entire 20 class. ECF No. 82-8 ¶¶ 29, 33; ECF No. 82-6 ¶¶ 43, 48; ECF No. 82-7 ¶¶ 33, 38; ECF No. 82-5 21 ¶¶ 42-43.

22 Plaintiffs’ counsel also continue to satisfy the requirements for class counsel under Rule 23 23(g).<sup>9</sup> Plaintiffs’ counsel undertook significant research and investigation in preparation for filing 24 the complaint in this case, and vigorously litigated the case. ECF No. 82-1 ¶ 44; ECF No. 82-2 ¶¶ 6-25 7; ECF No. 82-3 ¶ 10; ECF No. 82-4 ¶ 7. Counsel are well-versed in complex class litigation and 26 _____

27 <sup>9</sup> Because one of the attorneys the Court appointed as class counsel in its preliminary approval order 28 has subsequently changed employment, the parties are concurrently filing a joint stipulation and proposed order to substitute California Women’s Law Center for Legal Aid at Work as class counsel.

1 LGBTQ+ civil rights actions, and devoted substantial time and expertise for the benefit of the class.
2 ECF No. 82-1 ¶¶ 41-50; ECF No. 82-2 ¶¶ 3-9; ECF No. 82-3 ¶¶ 2-9; ECF No. 82-4 ¶¶ 2-6. The case 3 has been hard fought through Defendants’ motion to dismiss and lengthy settlement negotiations.
4 ECF No. 82-1 ¶¶ 13, 16-22; ECF No. 82-2 ¶¶ 10-13; ECF No. 82-3 ¶¶ 12-15; ECF No. 82-4 ¶¶ 9-12.
5 While class counsel Eliabeth Kristen has changed organizations to the California Women’s Law 6 Center, the CWLC will continue to represent the class and should be substituted as class counsel for 7 LAAW pursuant to the Stipulation and Declaration of Elizabeth Kristen filed herewith.

8 2. The Proposed Settlement Class Meets the Requirements of Rule 23(b)(2).

9 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(b)(2) requires that “the party opposing the class has acted 10 or refused to act on grounds that apply generally to the class, so that final injunctive relief or 11 corresponding declaratory relief is appropriate respecting the class as a whole.” Fed. R. Civ. P.
12 23(b)(2). “Rule 23(b)(2) is almost automatically satisfied in actions primarily seeking injunctive 13 relief.” Hernandez v. Cnty. of Monterey, 305 F.R.D. 132, 151 (N.D. Cal. 2015).

14 This case satisfies the Rule 23(b)(2) requirements because Defendants uniformly identified 15 the actual or perceived sexual orientation of veterans discharged under DADT and predecessor 16 policies on their DD-214s. Further, Defendants are now subjecting all proposed settlement class 17 members to the same policy that requires veterans with sexual orientation indicators on their DD-18 214s to individually petition for relief and carry the burden of demonstrating that relief should be 19 granted. A uniform injunction would cure each alleged violation of proposed settlement class 20 members’ Fifth and Fourteenth Amendment rights resulting from Defendant’s uniform policies and 21 procedures. In other words, proposed settlement class members seek “relief from a single practice.” 22 See Rodriguez, 591 F.3d at 1126. Therefore, this case is particularly suited to certification under 23 Rule 23(b)(2).

24 B. The Proposed Settlement is Fair, Reasonable, and Adequate.

25 The Court should grant final approval of the settlement. The Ninth Circuit maintains a 26 “strong judicial policy” that favors settlement of class actions. McKnight v. Uber Techs., Inc., No.
27 14-cv-05615-JST, 2017 WL 3427985, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 7, 2017) (quoting Class Plaintiffs v.
28 City of Seattle, 955 F.2d 1268, 1276 (9th Cir. 1992)). Final approval is appropriate if the proposed

1 settlement is “fair, reasonable, and adequate” under Rule 23(e)(2). See In re Bluetooth Headset
2 Prod. Liab. Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 946 (9th Cir. 2021). Rule 23(e) requires the Court to consider 3 whether representation of the class was adequate; whether the proposal was negotiated at arm’s 4 length; the adequacy of the relief provided for the class; and the treatment of class members relative 5 to each other. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(A)-(D).

6 The Ninth Circuit has also identified specific factors that courts should consider when 7 evaluating whether a settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate: the strength of plaintiff’s case; 8 risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further litigation; risk of maintaining class action 9 status throughout trial; amount offered in settlement; extent of discovery completed and stage of the 10 proceedings; experience and views of counsel; presence of a governmental participant; and reaction 11 of class members to the proposed settlement. In re Bluetooth, 654 F.3d at 946 (quoting Churchill 12 Village, LLC v. Gen. Elec., 361 F.3d 566 at 575).

13 When the class has not already been certified, the Court must also closely review class 14 settlements “for evidence of collusion or other conflicts of interest . . . before securing the court’s 15 approval as fair.” Id. at 946-47. This review “ensure[s] that class representatives and their counsel 16 do not secure a disproportionate benefit ‘at the expense of the unnamed plaintiffs who class counsel 17 had a duty to represent.’” Lane v. Facebook, Inc., 696 F.3d 811, 819 (9th Cir. 2012) (quoting 18 Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1027). The proposed settlement in this case meets this standard.

19 1. The Settlement is a Product of Arm’s Length Negotiations Among Experienced 20 Counsel.

21 The fairness and reasonableness of a settlement agreement is presumed “where that 22 agreement was the product of non-collusive, arm’s length negotiations conducted by capable and 23 experienced counsel.” In re Netflix Priv. Litig., No. 5:11-CV-00379 EJD, 2013 WL 1120801, at *4 24 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 18, 2013). Defendants agreed to participate in settlement discussions after the Court 25 ruled on their motion to dismiss. ECF No. 82-1 ¶ 16. Counsel then engaged in nearly six months of 26 weekly and bi-weekly negotiations that were adversarial in nature. ECF No. 82-1 ¶ 19; ECF No. 82-
27 2 ¶ 10; ECF No. 82-3 ¶ 12; ECF No. 82-4 ¶ 9. Counsel made incremental progress each week 28 through hard-fought compromises. Id. The proposed settlement was finally reached on January 3, 1 2025, after a substantial exchange of information, extensive investigation and analysis, and a full day

2 of arm’s-length negotiations in Washington, D.C., with Plaintiffs’ counsel who have considerable 3 expertise in class actions and civil rights litigation on behalf of LGBTQ+ individuals. ECF No. 82-1
4 ¶¶ 20, 22; ECF No. 82-2 ¶¶ 11, 13; ECF No. 82-3 ¶¶ 13, 15; ECF No. 82-4 ¶¶ 10, 12.

5 Plaintiffs and their counsel agreed to accept and propose this settlement to the Court because 6 it provides substantial relief to class members and avoids both the risk of loss in litigation and the 7 further harm of delaying relief to tens of thousands of veterans who have already waited for decades.
8 ECF No. 82-1 ¶¶ 5, 34; ECF No. 82-2 ¶ 14; ECF No. 82-3 ¶ 16; ECF No. 82-4 ¶ 13. Courts 9 recognize that the opinion of experienced counsel supporting settlement after arm’s-length 10 negotiations “is entitled to considerable weight.” Ellis v. Naval Air Rework Facility, 87 F.R.D. 15, 11 18 (N.D. Cal. 1980), aff’d, 661 F.2d 939 (9th Cir. 1981). The settlement was zealously negotiated, 12 and Plaintiffs’ counsel strongly support the settlement as fair, reasonable, and adequate. ECF No.
13 82-1 ¶¶ 5, 34; ECF No. 82-2 ¶ 14; ECF No. 82-3 ¶ 16; ECF No. 82-4 ¶ 13.

14 2. The Strength of Plaintiffs’ Claims and Risk of Continued Litigation Weigh in 15 Favor of Approval.

16 In evaluating the settlement, the Court should weigh the strength of Plaintiffs’ case against 17 the risk and expense of continued litigation. Churchill, 361 F.3d at 575. While Plaintiffs believe 18 they have a strong case on the merits, they also recognize the inherent risks and uncertainty of 19 litigation, including that the proposed settlement class could ultimately receive no relief at all, and 20 understand the benefit of providing significant injunctive relief now. ECF No. 82-1 ¶ 30. Plaintiffs 21 also appreciate the value of working collaboratively with Defendants to draft complex procedures 22 that involve each of the military service branches, an option that may not be available if the parties 23 proceed with litigation to a final judgment. Id. ¶ 31.

24 Plaintiffs recognize that timeliness of relief is a crucial consideration to this proposed 25 settlement class, giving an added value to resolving these claims without protracted litigation. ECF 26 No. 82-1 ¶ 30. All members of the proposed settlement class have lived with discriminatory DD-27 214s for more than a decade—many for multiple decades. Id. Indeed, some veterans did not receive 28 relief in their lifetime. Id. If approved, the settlement will yield expedited, certain, and substantial

1 recovery for the proposed settlement class, without the considerable burdens, risks, and delays of 2 ongoing federal court litigation. Id.

3 3. The Relief Obtained in Settlement is Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable.

4 The relief negotiated by the parties is fair, adequate, and reasonable. The expedited 5 corrections and review processes established through the settlement allow for the prompt removal of 6 stigmatizing markers from the discharge paperwork of veterans separated pursuant to DADT or its 7 predecessor policies, protect class members' privacy, and do not require veterans to individually 8 navigate the lengthy and burdensome individual Board records correction process. SA ¶¶ 6-8.
9 Discharge upgrades will enable class members to obtain federal, state, and local benefits they have 10 been denied. ECF No. 43 ¶¶ 46-49, 69. Critically, these relief measures will be implemented within 11 three months of final approval, which is a significant benefit to veterans who have waited decades 12 for a viable remedy and would otherwise face additional years of litigation in this case. SA ¶¶ 6-7; 13 ECF No. 82-1 ¶ 30.

14 The relief in the proposed settlement is also reasonable when compared with the potential 15 class recovery if Plaintiffs had fully prevailed on each of their claims. See N.D. Cal. Class 16 Settlement Guidance ¶ 1(c). All Plaintiffs raised the following federal constitutional claims against 17 Defendants: Equal Protection (claim one); Substantive Due Process, Privacy Interest (claim two); 18 and Procedural Due Process (claim four). Plaintiffs Farrell, Gonzales, and Steffanides also raised a 19 Substantive Due Process, Liberty Interest (claim three) claim against Defendants. The proposed 20 settlement provides full injunctive relief under claims one and two, and a better result could not have 21 been obtained after a successful trial on the merits. The relief achieves the primary goal of this 22 litigation: to provide an accessible and effective avenue to remove the markers of sexual orientation 23 from veterans' DD-214s and implement a comprehensive and expedited DD-214 correction process 24 that alleviates the burdens of the current individualized process for the settlement class.

25 The proposed settlement does not achieve full relief under claims three and four because 26 veterans with Uncharacterized/Entry Level discharge codes will not be eligible for discharge 27
28

1 upgrades under the Settlement Agreement.<sup>10</sup> SA ¶ 4(y), 4(bb), 4(ee), 7; See N.D. Cal. Class 2 Settlement Guidance ¶ 1(c). Veterans with these codes were discharged under a protocol preventing 3 any discharge “characterization” from being assigned (whether Honorable or below Honorable) 4 because the veteran was administratively separated before they served a specified minimum number 5 of days (the specific minimum number of days has varied over time). Defendants represent that they 6 do not have the authority to retroactively provide Honorable discharges to these veterans on a group-
7 wide basis, and it is unclear whether Plaintiffs would prevail on this issue at trial. ECF No. 82-1 8 ¶ 27. Plaintiffs recognize that litigating this narrow issue carries significant risk that is outweighed 9 by a global settlement agreement that provides a path toward removal of sexual orientation 10 indicators from DD-214s for all class members and provides the majority discharged without an 11 Honorable characterization the opportunity to opt into an expedited group application process for 12 discharge upgrades. Id. Settlement class members with Uncharacterized/Entry Level Discharges 13 will not waive or release their individual claims under the terms of the settlement and retain their 14 right to apply individually for discharge upgrades through the regular Board review process. SA 15 ¶ 32-33, 46.

16 Less-than-total relief for all class members desiring discharge upgrades does not preclude a 17 determination by the Court that the settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable. A settlement is not 18 judged solely against what might have been recovered had Plaintiffs prevailed at trial as to all 19 aspects of their claims. Linney v. Cellular Alaska Partnership, 151 F.3d 1234, 1242 (9th Cir. 1998) 20 (noting that fairness of a proposed settlement “is not to be judged against a hypothetical or 21 speculative measure of what might have been achieved by the negotiators.”); In re TD Ameritrade 22 Account Holder Litig., No. C 07-2852 SBA, 2011 WL 4079226, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 13, 2011).
23 Instead, a compromise generally involves both parties giving up something they might have won had 24 they proceeded with litigation in exchange for saving costs and eliminating risks. See Officers for 25 Justice v. Civ. Serv. Comm’n & Cnty. of San Francisco, 688 F.2d 615, 624 (9th Cir. 1982).

26 _____
27 <sup>10</sup> Class members with Uncharacterized/Entry level discharges will still be eligible to receive 28 corrections to their DD-214s to remove sexual orientation indicators through the Administrative Change Process. SA ¶ 6. All other class members with discharge characterizations below Honorable will be eligible for the Discharge Upgrade Review Process. SA ¶ 7.

1 The proposed release of claims included in the settlement is consistent with Ninth Circuit
2 law. See, e.g., Hesse v. Sprint Corp., 598 F.3d 581, 590 (9th Cir. 2010) (quoting Williams v. Boeing 3 Co., 517 F.3d 1120, 1133 (9th Cir. 2008) (“A settlement agreement may preclude a party from 4 bringing a . . . released claim [that] is ‘based on the identical factual predicate as that underlying the 5 claims in the settled class action.’”)); N.D. Cal. Class Settlement Guidance ¶ 1(b). The release in the 6 settlement tracks the claims in the operative complaint and releases only the claims asserted on 7 behalf of the putative class in the complaint. SA ¶ 32. All settlement class members maintain their 8 rights to apply individually through the usual Board review processes for any relief not obtained 9 through the procedures set forth in this settlement. SA ¶ 7(c)-(d). All class members also maintain 10 their rights to pursue claims for damages because no such relief was sought as part of this case.
11 SA ¶ 32.

12 C. The Notice Plan Satisfies the Requirements of Rule 23.

13 The approved notice plan is appropriate under Rule 23(c)(2), which permits but does not 14 mandate notice when a class is certified under Rule 23(b)(2) and provides only injunctive relief. See 15 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(2)(A); Moore v. GlaxoSmithKline Consumer Healthcare Holdings (US) LLC, 16 No. 4:20-cv-09077-JSW, 2024 WL 4868182, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 3, 2024); see also N.D. Cal.
17 Class Settlement Guidance ¶ 3 (providing additional guidance on class notice). A class settlement 18 notice “is satisfactory if it ‘generally describes the terms of the settlement in sufficient detail to alert 19 those with adverse viewpoints to investigate and to come forward and be heard.’” Churchill, 361 20 F.3d at 575 (quoting Mendoza v. Tuscon Sch. Dist. No. 1, 623 F.2d 1388, 1352 (9th Cir. 1980)).

21 The parties implemented the approved notice plan as described above in Sections II and 22 III.C, utilizing multiple methods of communication to make settlement class members aware of the 23 settlement, the relief it would provide, and how to exercise their rights to object and/or participate.
24 Rifkin Decl. ¶¶ 13-16.

25 The settlement also provides that, following final approval, Defendants will send letters by 26 U.S. Mail to settlement class members who can be identified using Defendants’ computerized 27 records. SA ¶ 8. These letters will inform class members of the availability of a process to request 28 changes to their DD-214s but will not directly reference this lawsuit or sexual orientation to protect

1 class members' privacy, given that mail delivery to last-known addresses does not guarantee 2 confidentiality. Rifkin Decl. ¶ 17. While Defendants will not be able to identify settlement class 3 members discharged before 1980 because they do not maintain computerized records from that time, 4 all veterans who meet the class definition will be eligible for relief under the settlement, even if they 5 do not receive a letter from Defendants. SA ¶¶ 6, 7; ECF No. 82-1 ¶ 40. Defendants will also post 6 information about how to access the Administrative Change Process and the Board Discharge 7 Upgrade Review Process on the Department of Defense website and each military department's 8 website, and Plaintiffs' counsel will post similar information on their case website along with links 9 to the Department of Defense website. SA ¶¶ 9, 11, 24(d).

10 This notice plan is reasonable given the size, composition, and particular privacy concerns of 11 this settlement class, and the nature of the injunctive relief provided.

12 D. Plaintiffs' Request for Attorneys' Fees and Costs is Reasonable.

13 Pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 23(h) and 54(d)(2), the Court may award 14 reasonable attorneys' fees and nontaxable costs as authorized by law or by the parties' agreement 15 upon timely motion and with appropriate notice to the class. In granting preliminary approval of the 16 settlement, the Court found that it would "likely be able to approve the proposed settlement as fair, 17 reasonable, and adequate," "including its provisions for... reasonable attorneys' fees and costs."
18 ECF No. 85 at 2. The Court approved notice to the class that Plaintiffs would be seeking $350,000 19 in fees and costs, and directed Plaintiffs to move for such fees and costs at the time of the final 20 approval motion. ECF No. 85. The parties provided Notice, and no class member has objected to 21 Plaintiffs' fees request.

22 "A district court must ensure that attorneys' fees are 'fair, adequate, and reasonable,' even if 23 the parties have entered into a settlement agreement that provides for those fees." Bronson v. Samsung 24 Elect. Am., Inc., No. C 18-02300 WHA, 2020 WL 1503662, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 30, 2020) (citing 25 Staton v. Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 938, 963–64 (9th Cir. 2003)); see also In re Bluetooth, 654 F.3d at 941.
26 Here, the settlement provides the class with a substantial benefit that is consistent with the injunctive 27 relief sought in the operative complaint; the fees were negotiated independent of the injunctive relief 28 set forth in the settlement; the settlement is not conditioned upon the Court's approval of fees; and the 1 fees will not be deducted from a monetary class settlement. ECF No. 82-1 ¶¶ 26, 55; see Bronson, 2 2020 WL 1503662, at *3; Vargas v. Ford Motor Co., No. cv 1208388, 2020 WL 1164066, at *12

3 (C.D. Cal. Mar. 5, 2020) (attorneys’ fee provision was “not problematic” when, among other things, 4 fees were negotiated separately from class relief).

5 This Court may properly award Plaintiffs $350,000 in reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs 6 pursuant to Rule 23(h). EAJA entitles litigants to recover attorneys’ fees and costs from the federal 7 government if: (1) they are the prevailing party; (2) the government fails to show that its position 8 was substantially justified or that special circumstances make an award unjust; and (3) the requested 9 fees and costs are reasonable. See Perez–Arellano v. Smith, 279 F.3d 791, 793 (9th Cir.2002).
10 EAJA also provides for the recovery of costs that are ordinarily billed to a client and that are routine 11 under all other fee statutes. See Int’l Woodworkers of Am. AFL-CIO, Local 3-98 v. Donovan, 769 12 F.2d 1388, 1392 (9th Cir. 1985), amended, 792 F.2d 762 (9th Cir. 1985).

13 Plaintiffs are a prevailing party under EAJA because the relief obtained through the 14 settlement materially alters the relationship of the parties and Court approval of the settlement would 15 judicially sanction this alteration. See Buckhannon Board and Care Home, Inc. v. West Virginia
16 Dep’t of Health & Hum. Resources, 532 U.S. 598, 604–05 (2001) (holding that a litigant is a 17 prevailing party if the lawsuit resulted in a “material alteration of the legal relationship of the 18 parties” and the alteration was “judicially sanctioned”); Perez–Arellano, 279 F.3d at 793 (holding 19 that the Buckhannon rule regarding prevailing party status governs EAJA fee applications). The 20 “material alteration” inquiry asks whether the relief modifies a defendant’s behavior in a way that 21 directly benefits the plaintiff. Richard S. v. Dep’t of Developmental Servs., 317 F.3d 1080, 1087 22 (9th Cir.2003) (citing Barrios v. California Interscholastic Federation, 277 F.3d 1128 (9th Cir.
23 2002)). Here, Defendants’ implementation of expedited DD-214 correction and review processes 24 under the settlement agreement benefits the class of veterans separated pursuant to DADT and its 25 predecessor policies. For purposes of settlement, Defendants also do not contend that the 26 government’s position was substantially justified or that an award of attorneys’ fees and costs is 27 unjust. See 28 U.S.C. § 2412(d)(1)(A); Thomas v. Peterson, 841 F.2d 332, 335 (9th Cir.1988) 28 (holding that a prevailing party in litigation against the government receives a rebuttable

1 presumption that it is entitled to EAJA fees unless the government is able to show its position was 2 substantially justified); ECF No. 82-1 ¶ 35.

3 The requested award of $350,000 in total attorneys' fees and costs is reasonable. When 4 calculated at the 2024 EAJA statutory maximum rate of $251.84 per hour,<sup>11</sup> this compensates 5 Plaintiffs' attorneys for approximately 1,389.8 hours of work. Rifkin Decl. ¶ 23. As set forth in 6 Plaintiffs' motion for preliminary approval, as of September 2024, counsel had spent approximately 7 4,577.1 hours on this matter and incurred approximately $17,000 in costs and litigation expenses.
8 ECF No. 82-1 ¶ 52. Since September 2024, Plaintiffs' attorneys have done substantial additional 9 work necessary to the litigation, including negotiating with Defendants to finalize the settlement 10 agreement, preparing class notice, preparing and filing the motion for conditional class certification 11 and preliminary approval and supporting declarations, implementing the class notice plan, and 12 preparing and filing the instant motion for class certification, final approval, and award of fees.
13 Rifkin Decl. ¶ 25. The requested amount of $350,000 in fees and costs is thus more than a 70% 14 reduction of Plaintiffs' lodestar at the 2024 EAJA rate, which more than accounts for the diligent 15 exercise of billing judgment and adjustments for the application of prior years' EAJA rates for work
16 performed in those years. Id. ¶ 23; ECF No. 82-1 ¶ 54; ECF No. 82-2 ¶ 20; ECF No. 82-3 ¶ 22; ECF 17 No. 82-4 ¶ 19; see also Bronson, 2020 WL 1503662, at *5 (approving requested fee award of 18 $487,000 where "[t]he amount comports with the settlement" and "the fees sought represent 19 approximately thirty-four percent of the claimed lodestar, yielding a 'negative multiplier.'"); Moreno 20 v. San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District, 17-cv-02911-JSC, 2019 WL 343472, at *6 (N.D.
21 Cal. Jan. 28, 2019) (finding requested fee award of $57,000 as set forth in settlement reasonable 22 where counsel agreed "to accept a very significant lodestar discount. The fees sought represent 23 approximately one third of Class Counsel's actual lodestar."). Indeed, even when considering only 24 the work of the two primary attorneys at each co-counsel organization, Plaintiffs' counsel spent 25 more than 2,663 hours on this matter and are requesting compensation at EAJA rates for only

26 _____
27 <sup>11</sup> United States Courts for the Ninth Circuit, Statutory Maximum Rates Under the Equal Access to 28 Justice Act, <https://www.ca9.uscourts.gov/attorneys/statutory-maximum-rates/> (last visited February 3, 2025). Plaintiffs' motion for preliminary approval cited the 2023 EAJA rate because the 2024 rate had not yet been posted.

1 approximately half of those hours. Rifkin Decl. ¶ 24.

2 The requested fees are also reasonable in light of courts’ discretion to award a fee higher than 3 the statutory EAJA rate based on special factors, such as when plaintiffs’ attorneys possess a 4 specialty practice or distinctive knowledge and skills, the distinctive knowledge and skills are 5 necessary to the litigation in question, and similar skills could not have been obtained at the statutory 6 rate. See Pirus v. Bowen, 869 F.2d 536, 541-42 (9th Cir. 1989); Ms. L v. U.S. Immigration and 7 Customs Enforcement, No. 18-cv-00428 (S.D. Cal. Nov. 5, 2024), ECF No. 757 at 1-2. Plaintiffs 8 could reasonably argue this special factor applies here and justifies a rate enhancement, but in the 9 interest of obtaining timely relief for the settlement class, Plaintiffs forego seeking these higher rates.

10 V. CONCLUSION

11 For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court certify the settlement 12 class, grant final approval of the settlement, award $350,000 in reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs 13 to Plaintiffs, and enter final judgment in this action.
